PREFACE.

Custom, if not utility, has rendered necessary a preface ever since books were first printed. It is to a publisher what a prologue is to a play; the one serves to please an auditor, the other suits for an apology or an explanation to the reader. In the present case, apology is not sought after; but an opportunity is merely taken in a part of this preface, to account for any and perhaps several errors which may appear in the following pages.

To the intelligent, little need be said of the many great difficulties attending the making of a Directory; however, to mention a few, and how they have been overcome, may not be improper. Many, at first, through a misconception of the intention of the publisher, refused to give their names altogether; and, in some cases, the names and vocations of the inhabitants have been received through children or servants; and, as there are no established rules for spelling proper names, many have probably been misspelt.

Some may, perhaps, object to the price of this little work, on account of its size, but it is hoped that the smallness of the type, the condensation of the matter by abbreviations, and the quality rather than the quantity of matter will be considered in the estimation of its value: for many volumes, of double its size will be found less useful: besides, it should be remembered, that every line has cost a short walk, and was attended with some trouble.

Explanation of the Abbreviations, &c.

F street north, is expressed by Fn; south, by Fs; Seventh street west, by 7w; east, by 7e: the word street being always understood.

All the other streets are designated in the same method; dw. is for dwelling;—btw between. The other contractions, it is thought, need no explanation.—It is hoped that the Corporation will cause to be erected street sign-boards, at the corners of nearly all the squares, and at the junctions of streets, &c.

It may afford satisfaction to those unacquainted with the plan of the City of Washington, to state, that all the streets running east and west are named by the letters of the English alphabet; and that they are called north or south streets, according as they are situated north or south of the Capitol, which is the dividing point; as, A street north, and A street south, which are the nearest streets north and south of the Capitol.

Those streets running north and south, are named numerically, and are designated by the word east or west, as they are situated east or west of the Capitol; as, First street east, and First street west, &c.

The grand avenues, and such streets as lead immediately to public places, are from 120 to 160 feet wide. The other streets are from 90 to 112 feet wide. North and South Capitol streets, each 130 feet wide; East Capitol street, 160; "Half streets," east and west, 80; Four-and-a-half street west, 110; Thirteen-and-a-half street west, 70; Water street, 60; and Canal street, 80 feet wide.

In order to execute this plan, Mr. ELLICOTT drew a true meridional line, by celestial observation, which passed through the centre area intended for the centre of the Capitol. This line he crossed by another, due east and west, which passed through the same point.

The credit of laying out this city on its extensive scale, belongs certainly to General WASHINGTON and Major L'ENFANT. And the building of the Capitol, where it now stands, completely elevated above all other edifices within the boundaries, was at the instance of the General.

The city is divided into the following wards:

First Ward.—All that part of the city to the westward of Fifteenth street west.

Second Ward.—That part of the city between Fifteenth and Tenth streets west.

Third Ward.—That part between Tenth and First streets west, and north of E street south.

Fourth Ward.—That part between First street west and Eighth street east, and north of E street south.

Fifth Ward.—That part between Tenth street west and Fourth street east, and south of E street south.

Sixth Ward.—The residue of the city.

It appears by the census taken in this city in 1820, that it contained 13,474 persons; and it contains, in the present year, (1827) it is supposed, in round numbers, about 16,500; making an increase of population in seven years of 3,026 persons.

As a closing paragraph to these remarks, the publisher hopes that for any errors or omissions, the propriety of attempting to do justice to the undertaking, will apologize for any want of correctness in its execution.

CHARTER OF WASHINGTON.

Abstract of the Act of Incorporation, or Charter, of the City, Passed by Congress, 15th May, 1820.

SEC. 1. In this section, all former acts of incorporation are declared to be repealed. It provides, however, that the Members of the Corporation in office at the time of the passage of this act are to continue as such until the expiration of the terms for which they were respectively appointed; and all their acts done in pursuance of former acts of incorporation, and not inconsistent with this one, are to remain valid.

SEC. 2, Enacts that the inhabitants of Washington shall continue to be a body politic and corporate, by the name of the "Mayor, Board of Aldermen, and Board of Common Council, of the City of Washington;" and, by their corporate name, are authorized to do all acts as natural persons; and that they may have a city seal, which they may alter at pleasure.

SEC. 3, Declares that the Mayor shall be elected biennially, commencing on the first Monday in June, 1820, at the same time and place, in the same manner, and by the persons qualified to vote for the Boards of Aldermen and Common Council. Commissioners of Election are to make out duplicate certificates of the result of the election, and return one to each Board on the Monday following the election; and the person having the greatest number of votes shall be the Mayor: but in case two or more, highest in vote, shall have an equal number, then the Boards are to determine, by ballot in joint meeting, the choice between them. The Mayor must, on the Monday ensuing his election, take an oath in presence of the two Boards, to be administered by a justice of the peace, "lawfully to execute the duties of his office, to the best of his skill and judgment, without favor or partiality." By virtue of his office, he is to be a justice of the peace for the county of Washington. He is empowered, with the consent of the Board of Aldermen, to appoint all officers under the corporation, (except commissioners of election,) and may remove them at pleasure. He may appoint persons to fill vacancies which occur during the recess of said Board, to hold their offices until the end of the then ensuing session. He may convene the two Boards when in his opinion the public good may require it; he shall lay before them in writing such alterations in the laws of the corporation as he may deem proper; and he shall receive for his services, annually, a compensation, which shall not be altered during his continuation in office. Any person is eligible to the office of Mayor, who is a free white male citizen, thirty years of age, has been a resident of the city for two years preceding the election, and who is the bona fide owner of a freehold estate in the city. In case of the refusal of the Mayor elect to accept of the office, or of his death, resignation, inability, or removal, the said Boards shall elect another, to serve for the remainder of the term, or during such inability.

SEC. 4, Enacts that the Board of Aldermen shall consist of two members to be residents in and chosen from each ward, by the qualified voters therein, to be elected for two years from the Monday next ensuing their election. The Board of Common Council shall consist of three members from each ward, to be chosen in like manner, for one year. Each board shall meet at the council chamber, at ten o'clock, on the second Monday in June in every year, and at such other times as they may by law direct. A majority of each Board is necessary to form a quorum; but a less number may adjourn from day to day. They may compel the attendance of absent members; and regulate their own compensation. Each Board to choose its own President, who is entitled to a vote. They shall fix their rules of proceeding, choose their own officers, regulate their compensations, and remove them at pleasure. They may, three fourths concurring, expel any member for disorderly behaviour or malconduct in office, but not a second time for the second offence. Each Board shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and the yeas and nays shall be entered thereon at the request of any member. Their deliberations shall be public. All their ordinances or acts shall be sent to the Mayor, and, if approved by him, shall be obligatory. But if the Mayor does not approve of any ordinance or act, he shall return it within five days, with the reasons, in writing, of his disapproval; but if, on a reconsideration, two-thirds of both Boards agree to pass the same, it shall be valid. If the Boards, by their adjournment, prevent its return, it shall not be obligatory.

Sec. 5, Designates the qualifications of members of the two boards, and of voters. No person is eligible to a seat in either board, unless he is upwards of twenty-five, a free white male citizen, has resided in the city for one year next preceding the election, is a resident of the ward for which he is elected, the bona fide owner of a freehold estate in the city, and shall have been assessed on the books of the corporation for the year ending on the 31st of December next preceding the election. Voters must be in like manner qualified, except that it is not requisite for them to own a freehold estate, nor to be more than twenty-one; voters, must, however, in addition to the above qualifications, have paid all taxes legally assessed and due on personal property, when legally required to pay the same, before they can exercise the right of suffrage. It is enjoined upon the City Register, or such person as the corporation may direct, to furnish the commissioners of election in each ward, previous to every election, with a list of the persons having a right to vote.

SEC. 6, Requires an election for members of the two boards to be held on the first Monday in June, annually. Three commissioners are to be appointed for each ward, by the boards in joint meeting, ten days at least before the election. It shall be the duty of the commissioners to give at least five days' notice of the places where the election is to be held. They are to take an oath "truly and faithfully to receive and return the votes of such persons as are by law entitled to vote for members of the two boards in their respective wards; and not knowingly to receive or return the vote of any person who is not legally entitled to the same." The polls shall be opened at ten in the morning, and close at seven in the evening. As soon as the polls are closed, the commissioners shall make out a correct return of the persons having the greatest number of legal votes for members of the two boards, respectively, together with the number of votes for each person voted for. The persons ha-ing the greatest number of votes, shall be duly elected; and in all cases of an equality, the commissioners shall decide the choice by lot. The said returns shall be made to the Mayor on the day succeeding the election, who shall cause them to be published. A duplicate return, together with a list of the persons who voted, shall also be made at the same time to the City Register, who shall record the same; and shall, within two days thereafter, notify the several persons returned of their election. Each board shall judge of the legality of the elections of its own members, and shall supply vacancies in its own body, by causing elections to fill the same, and appointing commissioners who are to give the usual notice of the time and place of holding such elections. The members of either board shall take an oath or affirmation, "faithfully to execute the duties of his office to the best of his knowledge and ability," to be administered by the Mayor, or a justice of the peace.

Sec. 7, Defines the powers of the Corporation. They are authorized to tax all real and personal property, provided said tax does not exceed three-fourths per cent. on the assessment, except for special purposes; wearing apparel, or the necessary tools and implements used in carrying on the trade or occupation of any person, not to be taxed, nor subject to seizure for taxes; after providing for all objects of a general nature, the balance of taxes to be expended in the ward where raised. The corporation shall have power to establish a board of health, who shall have authority to enforce its regulations, and take measures to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases; prevent and remove nuisances; establish night watches; erect lamps; preserve the navigation of the rivers; erect and regulate public wharves; deepen creeks, docks, and basins; regulate the manner of erecting private wharves, and their rates of wharfage; the stationing of vessels; provide for licensing, taxing, and regulating auctions, retailers, ordinaries, and taverns, carriages, wagons, carts, and drays, pawn brokers, venders of lottery tickets, money changers, and hawkers and pedlars; theatrical or public shows; tippling houses, lotteries, and all kinds of gaming; regulate and establish markets; erect bridges; open and keep in repair streets and drains, agreeably to the plan of the city; supply water; provide for the safe keeping of the standard weights and measures, as fixed by Congress, and regulate those used in the city; regulate the sweeping of chimneys, and the fees therefor; provide for the prevention and extinguishment of fires; regulate the size of bricks; provide for the inspection of lumber, and other building materials; and, with the approbation of the President of the United States, to regulate the manner of erecting, and the materials to be used in the erection of, houses; regulate the inspection of country produce, and salted provisions; the gauging of casks and liquors; the storage of gunpowder and all naval and military stores, not the property of the United States; to impose and appropriate fines, &c. for the breach of their laws; and to provide for the appointment of the officers necessary to execute the laws of the Corporation.

SEC. 8, Further empowers the Corporation to tax particular wards, or parts, for their local improvement; and, upon application of the owners of more than one half of the property upon any portion of a street, to cause the curb stones to be set and the foot-way to be paved, on such portion, and to tax such property to the amount of the expense thereof, provided said tax shall not exceed three dollars per front foot. Upon like application, they may cause the carriage-way to be paved, or lamps erected, the expense to be defrayed by the imposition of a tax on the lot fronting the portion so improved; and if said tax is not paid within thirty days after it becomes due, an interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, may be demanded. The corporation is authorized to establish, superintend, and endow, public schools; all necessary public institutions and buildings, and impose taxes to defray the expense thereof; regulate party walls and fences, and determine by whom they shall be kept in repair; cause new alleys to be opened, and extend those already laid out, in any square, upon application of the owners of more than half of the property in such square; but it is provided, that if any individual suffers damage, he shall be indemnified therefor by the corporation, after the amount shall have been ascertained by a jury summoned by the marshal; the amount of damages, and the expenses accruing, to be levied upon the property benefitted. They are empowered to improve, for public purposes, with the consent of the President, any public ground, not interfering with private rights; regulate the admeasurement and weight by which all articles for sale shall be disposed of; provide for the appointment of appraisers and measurers of builders' work and materials, and of wood, coal, grain, and lumber; restrain the disorderly meetings of slaves, free negroes, and mulattoes, and punish such slaves by whipping, not exceeding forty stripes, or by imprisonment, not exceeding six months, for one offence; and to punish such free negroes and mulattoes by penalties not exceeding twenty dollars for one offence, and in case of their inability, to confine them not exceeding six months; and they may cause all vagrants, disorderly or suspicious persons, eves-droppers, and night-walkers, gamblers, prostitutes, and all who lead an immoral course of life, to give security for their good behaviour, and to indemnify the city against any charge for their support, and if they do not give such security, to confine them to labor, not exceeding one year at a time; to bind out poor orphans, and the children of vagrants, and paupers; prescribe the terms upon which free negroes and mulattoes may reside in the city; authorize, with the approbation of the President of the United States, the drawing of lotteries for making those improvements in the city which the ordinary revenue will not accomplish, for ten years, provided the amount so raised shall not exceed ten thousand dollars in any one year, clear of expenses; to regulate burying grounds; provide for the registering of births, deaths, and marriages; to punish colored servants or slaves, for a breach of their laws, unless the master of such servants or slaves shall pay the fine; and they may pass all laws which may be deemed necessary to carry into execution the powers vested by this act in said Corporation.

SEC. 9, Makes it the duty of the Marshal of the District of Columbia, to keep within the jail for the County of Washington, all persons committed thereto, by authority of this act; and where suits shall be had before a justice of the peace, for the recovery of fines, by the Corporation, executions shall be issued, as in other cases of small debts.

SEC. 10, Authorizes the sale by auction of real property, on which two years' taxes are due, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay such taxes, and costs; public notice thereof to be given in some newspaper of the city, once a week for six months, when the property is assessed to persons residing out of the United States; for three months when they reside in the United States, but out of the District; and for six weeks when they reside in the District; which advertisement shall describe the property, give the person's name to whom assessed, and the amount of taxes due thereon. The purchaser to pay at the time of sale, the amount of taxes and expenses, and the residue within two years and ten days from the sale, which shall be placed in the city treasury and remain subject to the order of the original proprietor; the purchaser to receive from the Mayor a title in fee simple. It is provided that the proprietor may redeem his property so sold, within two years, by paying or tendering to the purchaser, or depositing with the Mayor, and notifying the purchaser thereof, the amount paid by the purchaser, and ten per cent. per annum thereon. If the purchaser fails to pay the residue within the two years and ten days, he shall pay an interest thereon of ten per cent. per annum, until he does pay it, and receive a conveyance from the Corporation; the interest, like the residue, to be subject to the order of the original proprietor. No sale is to be made of improved property, whereon there is personal property sufficient to pay the taxes; minors, mortgagees, and others, having equitable interests in real property sold for taxes, are allowed one year after such minors coming of age, or the others, have obtained a decree for its sale, to redeem the property so sold, which they may do by paying to the purchaser a sum equal to the whole amount he has paid on said property up to the period of redemption, with ten per cent. interest, and also the full value of the improvements thereon made by the purchaser. Where the estate of the tenant in default, as for years, or life, is sufficient to pay the taxes, such estate only shall be sold.

SEC. 11, Makes it lawful for the collector to postpone the sale, for want of bidders, he giving public notice thereof, and the sale made at such postponed time is to be as valid as if made on the day first stated.

SEC. 12, Authorizes the collector to proceed by distress and sale of goods and chattels, in the collection of all legal taxes, after giving ten days' notice in a newspaper of the city. The laws of Maryland relative to the right of replevying, are made applicable to cases of personal property taken by distress for taxes imposed by the Corporation.

SEC. 13, Declares that the Levy Court of Washington County shall not have the power of taxing property in the city. The Corporation are exempted from contributing towards defraying the expenses of said court, except for one half incurred on account of the orphans' court, the office of coroner, the county jail, and the opening and repairing of roads east of Rock creek, leading to the city; but the corporation are to have the sole control of the bridge over Rock creek, at the termination of K street north, which they must repair and rebuild when necessary.

SEC. 14, Requires the clerk of the Circuit Court, and the register of wills, for the county of Washington, respectively, to furnish the city register with semi-annual lists of the transfers of real property in the city; for which service the said clerk and register of wills are to be paid not exceeding six cents for each transfer.

SEC. 15, Authorizes and requires the commissioner of the public buildings to reimburse to the corporation a just proportion of the expenses incurred in opening, paving, or improving, any of the streets which pass by the United States' squares or reservations; which proportion shall be determined by a comparison of the length of their front with the whole extent of their two sides; and the commissioner shall cause the foot ways to be paved in front of any square, reservation, or lot, belonging to the United States, whenever the corporation shall direct the like improvements to be made on the opposite or adjoining squares or lots. The expenses to be defrayed by the commissioner out of moneys arising from the sale of United States' lots in the city.

SEC. 16, Authorizes the boards of aldermen and common council, from time to time, to divide the city into as many wards as they think proper, provided that each ward shall comprise, as near as may be, an equal number of inhabitants.* Expenses incurred in improving the streets which form the boundaries of the wards, to be defrayed out of the taxes raised in the wards which adjoin them, in equal proportions. The corporation is required, before the first Monday in June, 1820, to apportion amongst the wards hereby established, such portions of the city debt as have heretofore been chargeable to the old wards. The board of aldermen are directed, on the second Monday in June, 1820, as soon as organized, to divide themselves into two classes, as follow: Those members now in office, and, by virtue of their election in June, 1819, are entitled to take their seats in the new board as members from the wards in which they shall reside, shall be placed in the first class; those members who shall be elected from the same wards, in June next, shall be placed in the second class; and the other members shall be placed in their respective classes by lot; the seats of the first class to be vacated at the end of the first year, and the seats of the second class at the end of the second year; so that one member shall be elected in each ward every year thereafter. Aldermen are to be, by virtue of their office, justices of the peace for the county of Washington, unless holding commissions in the army or navy of the United States.

* This section divides the city into six wards; but the necessity of defining their limits here is superseded, as the Corporation, on the 24th May, 1820, by virtue of the power vested in them to that effect, have made a new division.—See Map of the City.

SEC. 17, Declares that this act shall continue in force for twenty years, and until Congress shall determine otherwise.

SEC. 13. And be it further enacted, That, where the payment of any taxes shall be made or enforced against any tenant, it shall not be lawful for the owner of said property, so made liable for the taxes, to recover of the tenant any rent for the property; but the same shall remain in his possession a lien for the debt, until such time as the rent accruing shall have discharged the same; and the said tenant shall be entitled to charge twenty-five per centum against the landlord, on the amount of the taxes so paid or enforced against him, except where he may have been previously in arrears for his rent.

SEC. 14. And be it further enacted, That, in all cases of any nuisance affecting, in the opinion of the board of health, the healthiness of the city of Washington, or inhabitants contiguous thereto, which may exist on any lot belonging to the United States, it shall be lawful to have the same removed, in the same manner, and under the same rules and regulations, that nuisances on private property are removed; and the expense of such removal or correction shall be defrayed out of any moneys in the hands of the city commissioner, for the sale of the public property in said city.

Washington, May 26, 1824.

Approved: JAMES MONROE.
